FOREWORD

The Ministry of Education, acting through the National Council for Curriculum and Assessment (NaCCA) has, in recent times, been working on curriculum and assessment reforms to improve the quality and relevance of learning experiences in pre-tertiary schools in Ghana. This curriculum, known as the Common Core Programme (CCP), is a sequel to the Kindergarten-Primary standards-based school curriculum, the implementation of which commenced with the 2019/2020 academic year. The CCP is carefully designed for learners in Basic 7 to Basic 10 (JHS I – SHS I) as part of a holistic learning experience that prepares them for post-secondary education, the world of work or both. The curriculum focuses on building character and nurturing values, in addition to ensuring a seamless progression for all learners from JHS to SHS and creates clear pathways for academic and career-related programmes from Basic 11 to Basic 12 (SHS2 - SHS3).

In the twenty-first century, memorisation of facts and figures is no longer a sufficient learner attribute. Therefore, the CCP focuses on the acquisition of the 4Rs (Reading, wRiting, aRithmetic and cReativity) and core competencies to afford learners the ability to apply knowledge innovatively to solve everyday problems. Personal projects, community projects and community service have been integrated into the CCP as part of a comprehensive assessment programme, including assessment of knowledge, skills, attitudes and values that mainly emphasise what learners can do. It is hoped that the content of this curriculum will promote better high school education that meets the varied learning needs of the young people in the country and addresses the shortfalls in the current school curriculum in relation to learning and assessment.

The Ministry of Education is committed to ensuring that our schools develop globally competitive high school graduates who have the requisite employable skills and workplace ethos. The CCP curriculum will, therefore, play an important role in this regard. The Ministry will support the effective implementation of the CCP to include capacity development of all teachers to ensure improved learning experiences and outcomes for our young people.

Dr. Matthew Opoku Prempeh (MP)
The Honourable Minister of Education

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This Common Core Programme (CCP) curriculum was developed together with the National Pre-tertiary Learning Assessment Framework (NPLAF) and Teacher’s and Learner’s Resource Packs. All these documents were developed by the National Council for Curriculum and Assessment (NaCCA), under the oversight and strategic direction of the Ministry of Education (MoE) with support from some agencies of the MoE and other relevant stakeholders.

NaCCA, acting on behalf of the Ministry of Education (MoE), would like to express its sincere gratitude to all its partners who participated in the professional conversations and discussions during the course of the development of the CCP curriculum.

NaCCA also extends special commendations to the leadership of the Ghana Education Service (GES), National School Inspectorate Authority (NaSIA), National Teaching Council (NTC), Commission for Technical and Vocational Education and Training (Commission for TVET) and other agencies of the MoE.

Additionally, NaCCA acknowledges the contributions of staff from various Universities and Colleges of Education as well as teachers and learners within the Ghana Education Service.

Special thanks go to those who also contributed to shaping this curriculum content through the consultation process, including the national stakeholder engagement conducted in Accra in February, 2020.

INTRODUCTION

In the first four years of high school education, learners are expected to take a Common Core Programme (CCP) that emphasises a set of high, internationally-benchmarked career and tertiary education readiness standards. Learners need to acquire these for post-secondary education, the workplace or both. The standards articulate what learners are expected to know, understand and be able to do by focusing on their social, emotional, cognitive and physical development. The CCP runs from Basic 7 through Basic 10.

The common core attributes of the learner, which describe the essential outcomes in the three domains of learning (i.e. cognitive, psychomotor and affective), are at the centre of the CCP (see Figure 1). Inspired by the values which are important to the Ghanaian society, the CCP provides an education of the heart, mind and hands in relation to the learner's lifetime values, well-being, physical development, metacognition and problem-solving abilities. Ultimately, this will produce character-minded learners who can play active roles in dealing with the increasing challenges facing Ghana and the global society.

The features that shape the CCP are shown in Figure 1. These are:

- learning and teaching approaches – the core competencies, 4Rs and pedagogical approaches
- learning context – engagement, service and projects
- learning areas – mathematics, science, computing, languages (English, Ghanaian Language, French and Arabic), career technology, social studies, physical and health education, creative arts and design and religious and moral education.

Learning and Teaching Approaches

- The Core Competencies: Describe the relevant global skills for learning that the CCP helps learners to develop in addition to the 4Rs. The global skills for learning allow learners to become critical thinkers, problem-solvers, creators, innovators, good communicators, collaborators, digitally literate, and culturally and globally sensitive citizens who are life-long learners with a keen interest in their personal development.

- Pedagogical approaches: The CCP emphasises creative and inclusive pedagogies that are anchored on authentic and enquiry-based learning, collaborative and cooperative learning, differentiated learning, and holistic learning as well as cross disciplinary learning.
- The 4Rs across the Curriculum: The 4Rs refer to Reading, wRiting, aRithmetic and cReativity, which all learners must become fluent in.

Learning context

The CCP places emphasis on engagement of learners in classroom activities, and projects (in and out classroom). These projects can involve individual or group tasks which all learners are required to complete by the end of Basic 10. The CCP projects provide learners with contexts to demonstrate creativity and inventiveness in various areas of human endeavour. Community service offers opportunities for learners to nurture, love and care for, and solve problems in their community.

Learning Areas

The CCP comprises the following learning areas:

1. Languages (English Language, Ghanaian Language, French, Arabic)
2. Mathematics
3. Science
4. Creative Arts and Design (CAD)
5. Career Technology
6. Social Studies
7. Computing
8. Religious and Moral Education (RME)
9. Physical and Health Education (PHE)

This document sets out the standards for learning Arabic in the CCP. The standards in the document are posited in the expectation that the CCP (B7–B10) will offer quality education for all learners. The design of this curriculum is based on the features of the CCP as shown in Figure 1. It emphasises a set of high internationally-benchmarked career and tertiary education readiness standards. Learners need to acquire these competencies in Arabic for post-secondary education, workplace training or both. The curriculum has been designed to be user friendly because it provides a detailed preamble that covers the rationale, philosophy, aims, profile of expected learning behaviours (i.e. knowledge, skills, attitudes and values), pedagogical approaches, core competencies and the 4Rs, assessment practices and instructional expectations.

RATIONALE

The introduction of Arabic language into the school curriculum of Ghana is timely and appropriate within the concept of globalisation. Modern Standard Arabic is the current official language used for public and official purposes in the Arabic speaking world. With appropriate strategies in teaching and learning the language, Ghanaian learners would ultimately be equipped with the ability to articulate and analyse the world around them and bring their knowledge to bear positively on their lives and those of their compatriots. Learning Arabic broadens the employment opportunities for Ghanaian children and enables them to become more effective and valuable members of the Ghanaian workforce. They would not only demonstrate originality and independent thinking, but appreciate the intricacies of local and international geopolitics.

PHILOSOPHY

Teaching Philosophy

1. Teaching serves as a guide to knowledge, providing access to information rather than acting as the primary source of information. Learners of Arabic are guided to discover for themselves their own knowledge in order to construct their own skills. With the recognition that each individual is endowed with peculiar skills and capabilities, teaching is, therefore, tailored to respond to the needs, abilities and aptitudes of each child so that all learners can feel capable and successful.
2. Teaching strategies focus on learner's interests and what is relevant to their lives in order to boost motivation and stimulate their passion to learn. Through class interaction and dialogue, learners generate ideas and set goals for maximum performance. Class interactions and dialogue facilitate learners' expression of their own opinions and nurture their own ideas, thereby developing respect for themselves, others, and their environment, while accepting and embracing the differences among people as the core of what makes life fascinating.
3. Teaching is essentially driven by the need to equip the learner with requisite knowledge, skills and values not only to realise their potentials and achieve their goals in life, but to empower them to participate meaningfully in nation-building.

Learning Philosophy

1. Each child is a unique individual who needs a secure atmosphere in which to grow and mature emotionally, morally, intellectually, physically and socially. They, therefore, require support in providing an environment that is conducive to meet their fullest potential in these areas.

2. While an equitable learning environment is provided for all learners, each learner adopts an approach that adequately responds to their needs, abilities, aptitudes, and therefore would be responsible for and in control of their learning and learning outcomes.
3. Learners apply abstract theories from class textbooks to what they practically experience in their everyday world, where, by the use of oral and written skills, they articulate ideas and process concepts in ways that are meaningful to them.
4. It is important for learners to learn to work together. Opportunities are provided for learner collaboration in some of the writing assignments, which require working in groups. This gets learners to discuss what they are learning and allows them to work together to uncover answers and discover new knowledge.

AIMS

General Aims

The general aims of teaching the Arabic language are:

1. To enable learners to respond actively to the opportunities and challenges of the rapidly changing world by acquiring requisite knowledge, skills and values not only to realise their potentials and achieve their goals in life, but to empower them to participate meaningfully in nation-building and the geo-politics of the world.
2. To help learners achieve a high level of fluency in Arabic with commitment to academic research, using critical thinking and ethical engagement so as to become part of the new generation of global communicators and scholars

Specific Aims

The specific aims of teaching the Arabic language are:

1. To enable learners to develop knowledge and understanding, and to acquire the four communicative skills (listening, reading, speaking and writing) necessary for effective interaction in Arabic.
2. To develop the child's intellect, creativity and potentials to become part of world-class human resources with capabilities and enhanced career opportunities.
3. To develop a better awareness of diversity of cultures by gaining direct insights into cultures of the Arabic-speaking world.

PROFILE OF EXPECTED LEARNING BEHAVIOURS

A central aspect of this curriculum is the concept of three integral learning domains that should be the basis for instruction and assessment. These are:

- Knowledge, Understanding and Application
- Process Skills
- Attitudes and Values

Knowledge, Understanding and Application

Under this domain, learners acquire knowledge through some learning experiences. They may also show understanding of concepts by comparing, summarising, re-writing, etc. in their own words and constructing meaning from instruction. The learner may also apply the knowledge acquired in some new contexts. At a higher level of learning behaviour, the learner may be required to analyse an issue or a problem. At a much higher level, the learner may be required to synthesise knowledge by integrating a number of ideas to formulate a plan, solve a problem, compose a story, or a piece of music. Further, the learners may be required to evaluate, estimate and interpret a concept. At the last level, which is the highest, learners may be required to create, invent, compose, design and construct. These learning behaviours “knowing”, “understanding”, “applying”, “analysing”, “synthesising”, “evaluating” and “creating” fall under the domain “Knowledge, Understanding and Application”.

In this curriculum, learning indicators are stated with action words to show what the learner should know and be able to do. For example, the learner will be able to describe something. Being able to “describe” something after teaching and learning has been completed means that the learner has acquired “knowledge”. Being able to explain, summarise, and give examples etc. means that the learner has understood the concept taught.

Similarly, being able to develop, defend, etc. means that the learner can “apply” the knowledge acquired in some new context. You will note that each of the indicators in the curriculum contains an “action word” that describes the behaviour the learner will be able to demonstrate after teaching and learning has taken place. “Knowledge, Understanding and Application” is a domain that should be the prime focus of teaching and learning in schools. Teaching in most cases has tended to stress knowledge acquisition to the detriment of other higher level behaviours such as in knowledge application.

Each action word in any indicator outlines the underlying expected outcome. Each indicator must be read carefully to know the learning domain towards which to teach. The focus is to move teaching and learning from the didactic acquisition of “knowledge” where there is fact memorisation, heavy reliance on formulae, remembering facts without critiquing them or relating them to the real world – surface learning – to a new position called – deep learning. Learners are expected to deepen their learning through knowledge application to develop critical thinking skills, explain reasoning, and to generate creative ideas to solve real life problems in their school lives and later in their adult lives. This is the point where learning becomes beneficial to the learner.

The keywords and explanations of the “Knowledge, Understanding and Application” domain are as follows:

Knowing: The ability to remember, recall, identify, define, describe, list, name, match, state principles, facts and concepts. Knowledge is the ability to remember or recall material already learned and this constitutes the lowest level of learning.

Understanding: The ability to explain, summarise, translate, rewrite, paraphrase, give examples, generalise, estimate or predict consequences based upon a trend. Understanding is generally the ability to grasp the meaning of some concepts that may be verbal, pictorial, or symbolic.

Applying: This dimension is also referred to as “Use of Knowledge”. It is the ability to use knowledge or apply knowledge, apply rules, methods, principles, theories, etc. to situations that are new and unfamiliar. It also involves the ability to produce, solve, plan, demonstrate, discover, etc.

Analysing: The ability to break down material/information into its component parts; to differentiate, compare, distinguish, outline, separate, identify significant points, etc.; ability to recognise unstated assumptions and logical fallacies; ability to recognise inferences from facts, etc.

Synthesising: The ability to put parts or ideas together to form a new whole. It involves the ability to combine, compile, compose, devise, plan, revise, organise, create, generate new ideas and solutions.

Evaluating: The ability to appraise, compare features of different things and make comments or judgment, criticise, justify, support, discuss, conclude, make recommendations, etc. Evaluation refers to the ability to judge the worth or value of some material based on some criteria.

Creating: The ability to use information or materials to plan, compose, produce, manufacture or construct other products.

From the foregoing, creating is the highest form of thinking and learning and is therefore the most important behaviour. This, unfortunately, is the area where most learners perform poorly. In order to get learners to develop critical thinking, it is advised that you do your best to help your learners to develop analytical skills and processes as already discussed.

Attitudes, Values and Process Skills

To be effective, competent and reflective citizens, who will be willing and capable of solving personal and societal problems, learners should be exposed to situations that challenge them to raise questions and attempt to solve problems. Learners therefore need to acquire positive attitudes, values and psychosocial skills that will enable them participate in debates and take a stand on issues affecting them and others. The Arabic curriculum thus focuses on the development of attitudes and values.

The Arabic curriculum aims at helping learners to acquire the following:

1. Commitment: the determination to contribute to national development.
2. Tolerance: the willingness to respect the views of others.
3. Patriotism: the readiness to defend the nation.
4. Flexibility in ideas: the willingness to change opinion given more plausible evidence.
5. Respect for evidence: the willingness to collect and use data from one’s investigation, and also have respect for data collected by others.
6. Reflection: the habit of critically reviewing ways in which an investigation or observation has been carried out to see possible faults and other ways in which the investigation or observation can be improved upon.
7. Comportment: conforming to acceptable societal norms.
8. Co-operation: the ability to work effectively with others.
9. Responsibility: the ability to act independently and make decisions; being morally accountable for one’s actions; capable of rational conduct.
10. Environmental Awareness: being conscious of one’s physical and socio-economic surroundings.
11. Respect for the Rule of Law: obeying the rules and regulations of the land.

The teacher should ensure that learners cultivate the above attitudes and skills as basis for living in the nation as effective citizens.

Values

At the heart of this curriculum is the belief in nurturing honest, creative and responsible citizens. As such, every part of this curriculum, including the related pedagogy, should be consistent with the following set of values:

Respect: This includes respect for the nation of Ghana, its institutions and laws and the culture and respect among its citizens and friends of Ghana.

Diversity: Ghana is a multicultural society in which every citizen enjoys fundamental rights and responsibilities. Learners must be taught to respect the views of all persons and to see national diversity as a powerful force for nation development. The curriculum promotes social cohesion.

Equity: The socio-economic development across the country is uneven. Consequently, it is necessary to ensure an equitable distribution of resources based on the unique needs of learners and schools. Ghana's learners are from diverse backgrounds and hence require the provision of equal opportunities to all, and that, all strive to care for each other.

Commitment to achieving excellence: Learners must be taught to appreciate the opportunities provided through the curriculum and persist in doing their best in whatever field of endeavour as global citizens. The curriculum encourages innovativeness through creative and critical thinking and the use of contemporary technology.

Teamwork/Collaboration: Learners are encouraged to be committed to team-oriented working and learning environments. This also means that learners should have an attitude of tolerance to be able to live peacefully with all persons.

Truth and Integrity: The curriculum aims to develop learners into individuals who will consistently tell the truth irrespective of the consequences, be morally upright, and have the attitude of doing the right thing even when no one is watching. Also, learners will be taught to be true to themselves and be willing to live the values of honesty and compassion. Equally important is the practice of positive values as part of the ethos or culture of the workplace, which includes integrity and perseverance. These values must underpin the learning processes to allow learners to apply skills and competencies in the world of work.

The action words provided in the learning indicators in each content standard, should help you to structure your teaching and learning to achieve the desired learning outcomes. Check the learning indicators to ensure that you have given the required emphasis to each learning domain in your instruction and assessment.

ASSESSMENT

Assessment is a process of collecting and evaluating information about learners and using the information to make decisions to improve their learning. Assessment may be formative, summative, diagnostic, or evaluative depending on its purpose. It is integral to the teaching-learning process, promoting learning and improving instruction.

In the CCP, it is suggested that assessment involves assessment for learning, assessment of learning and assessment as learning, which are described in the subsequent paragraphs.

Assessment for Learning (AfL)

Assessment for Learning (AfL) is the process of seeking and interpreting evidence for use by learners and their teachers to decide where the learner is in their learning, where they need to be (the desired goal), and how best to get them there. Assessment for Learning also refers to all the activities undertaken by teachers and/or learners, which provide information to be used as feedback to modify the teaching and learning activities. AfL can be achieved through processes such as sharing criteria with learners, effective questioning and feedback.

It is a continuous process that happens at all stages of the instructional process to monitor the progress of a learner and to offer feedback or change teaching strategies to achieve the goal of a lesson.

Assessment as Learning (AaL)

Assessment as Learning develops and supports learners' sense of ownership and efficacy about their learning through reflective practices. This form of self-assessment helps in building the competencies of learners to achieve deeper understanding of what their own learning and what they are taught.

Assessment of Learning (AoL)

Assessment of learning provides a picture of the achieved standards of the teacher and performance of learners at the terminal stage of the learning process. This information provides data for accountability and educational decisions such as grading, selection and placement, promotion and certification. Through AoL, stakeholders such as parents and guardians are informed about the extent learners have attained expected learning outcomes at the end of their grade or programme.

What do we assess?

Emphasis on assessment in the CCP is on:

- the Common Core Learner Attributes, which are essential outcomes in the three domains of learning (i.e. cognitive, psychomotor and affective).
- Knowledge and skills with emphasis on the 4Rs in the learning areas
- Core competencies with emphasis on attitudes and values developed through the learning and its context as well as the pedagogical approaches. The Process is illustrated diagrammatically in Figure 2.

How do we monitor progress?

School Based Assessments (SBA) covers all forms/modes of assessment including AfL, AaL and AoL (see Table 1), that can be undertaken by any school-level actor (learner, teacher, head teacher) to monitor the learner's achievement over a period of time. Data collection and keeping records of the data are central to the conduct of SBA.

Table 1 Modes of Assessment

Assessment for Learning	Assessment of Learning	Assessment as Learning
Class exercises	Class Assessment Task (CAT)	Portfolio
Quizzes	End of term	Journal entries
Class tests (written, oral, aural and/or practical)	End of year	Project work
Class Assessment Task (CAT)		Checklist
		Questionnaire

The following are samples of relevant records that can be kept on the learner's learning.

- Learner's Progress Record (Cumulative Record)
- Learner's Report Card
- School-Based Assessment Termly Recording Register

Details of guidelines on SBA can be found in the National Pre-tertiary Learning Assessment Framework (NPLAF) document (Ministry of Education, 2020a) and the School-Based Assessment Guidelines (Ministry of Education, 2020b).

REPORTING SCHOOL-BASED ASSESSMENT (SBA) IN THE CCP

The CCP uses a criterion-referenced model of presenting and reporting school-based assessment data. Assessment throughout the four-year duration of the CCP, is done against criteria linked to performance standards and not against the work of other learners. The CCP provides levels of proficiency to be attained and descriptors for all grade levels of the programme (see Table 2). These levels and descriptors cannot be changed by individual schools and are, therefore, common to all learners as well as learning areas nationwide. For each assessment criterion (or benchmark for the level of proficiency), a number of descriptors are defined as shown in Table 2.

Table 2 Benchmarks, levels of proficiency and the grade level descriptors

Level of Proficiency	Benchmark	Grade Level Descriptor
1: Highly proficient (HP)	80% +	Learner shows high level of proficiency in knowledge, skills and values and can transfer them automatically and flexibly through authentic performance tasks.
2: Proficient (P)	68-79%	Learner demonstrates sufficient level of proficient knowledge, skills and core understanding; can transfer them independently through authentic performance tasks.

3: Approaching Proficiency (AP)	54-67%	Learner is approaching proficiency in terms of knowledge, skills and values with little guidance and can transfer understanding through authentic performance tasks.
4: Developing (D)	40-53%	Learner demonstrates developing level of knowledge, skills and values but needs help throughout the performance of authentic tasks.
5: Emerging (E)	39% and below	Learner is emerging with minimal understanding in terms of knowledge, skills, and values but needs a lot of help.

The grading system presented, shows the letter grade system and equivalent grade boundaries. In assigning grades to pupils' test results, or any form of evaluation, the above grade boundaries and the descriptors may be applied. The descriptors (Highly Proficient [HP], Proficient [P], Approaching Proficiency [AP], Developing [D], Emerging [E], indicate the meaning of each grade.

In addition to the school-based assessment (SBA), a national standards assessment test is conducted in Basic 8 to provide national level indicators on learners' achievements.

CREATIVE PEDAGOGICAL APPROACHES

These are the methods, strategies and relevant teaching and learning resources for ensuring that every learner benefits from the teaching and learning process. The curriculum emphasises the:

1. creation of learning-centred classrooms through the use of creative approaches to ensure learner empowerment and independent learning;
2. positioning of inclusion and equity at the centre of quality teaching and learning;
3. use of differentiation and scaffolding as teaching and learning strategies for ensuring that no learner is left behind;
4. use of Information Communication Technology (ICT) as a pedagogical tool;
5. identification of subject specific instructional expectations needed for making learning in the subject relevant to learners;
6. integration of assessment as learning, for learning and of learning into the teaching and learning process and as an accountability strategy; and
7. questioning techniques that promote deep learning.

Learning-Centered Pedagogies

The learner is at the centre of learning. At the heart of the CCP curriculum is the learning progression and improvement of learning outcomes for Ghana's young people with a focus on the 4Rs – Reading, wRiting, aRithmetic and cReativity. It is expected that at each curriculum phase, learners would be offered the essential learning experiences to progress seamlessly to the next phase. Where there are indications that a learner is not sufficiently ready for the next phase, a compensatory provision through differentiation should be provided to ensure that such a learner is ready to progress with their cohort.

The Curriculum encourages the creation of a learning-centred classroom with the opportunity for learners to engage in meaningful “hands-on” activities that bring home to the learner what they are learning in school and what they know from outside of school. The learning-centred classroom is a place for the learners to discuss ideas through the inspiration of the teacher. The learners then become actively engaged in looking for answers, working in groups to solve problems. They also research information, analyse and evaluate information. The aim of the learning-centred classroom is to enable learners to take ownership of their learning. It provides the opportunity for deep and profound learning to take place.

The teacher as a facilitator needs to create a learning environment that:

1. makes learners feel safe and accepted;
2. helps learners to interact with varied sources of information in a variety of ways;
3. helps learners to identify a problem suitable for investigation through project work;
4. connects the problem with the context of the learners' world so that it presents realistic opportunities for learning;
5. organises the subject matter around the problem, not the subject,
6. gives learners responsibility for defining their learning experience and planning to solve the problem;
7. encourages learners to collaborate in learning;
8. expects all learners to demonstrate the results of their learning through a product or performance.

It is more productive for learners to find answers to their own questions than for teachers to provide the answers and their opinions in a learning-centred classroom.

Inclusion

Inclusion is ensuring access and learning for all learners, especially, those disadvantaged. All learners are entitled to a broad and balanced curriculum in every school in Ghana. The daily learning activities to which learners are exposed should ensure that the learners' right to equal access and accessibility to quality education is met. The Curriculum suggests a variety of approaches that addresses learners' diversity and their special needs in the learning process. When these approaches are effectively used in lessons, they will contribute to the full development of the learning potential of every learner. Learners have individual needs and learning experiences and different levels of motivation for learning. Planning, delivery and reflection on daily learning experiences should take these differences into consideration.

The curriculum therefore promotes:

1. learning that is linked to the learner's background and to their prior experiences, interests, potential and capacities;
2. learning that is meaningful because it aligns with learners' ability (e.g. learning that is oriented towards developing general capabilities and solving the practical problems of everyday life); and
3. the active involvement of the learners in the selection and organisation of learning experiences, making them aware of their importance and also enabling them to assess their own learning outcomes.

Differentiation and Scaffolding

Differentiation is a process by which differences (learning styles, interests and readiness to learn) among learners are accommodated so that all learners in a group have the best chance of learning. Differentiation could be by content, tasks, questions, outcome, groupings and support.

Differentiation as a way of ensuring each learner benefits adequately from the delivery of the curriculum can be achieved in the classroom through (i) Task (ii) Support from the Guidance and Counselling Unit and (iii) Learning outcomes.

- Differentiation by task involves teachers setting different tasks for learners of different abilities. E.g. in sketching the plan and shape of their classroom some learners could be made to sketch with free hand while others would be made to trace the outline of the plan.
- Differentiation by support involves the teacher giving needed support and referring weak learners to the Guidance and Counselling Unit for academic support.
- Differentiation by outcome involves the teacher allowing learners to respond at different levels. Weaker learners are allowed more time for complicated tasks.

Scaffolding in education refers to the use of a variety of instructional techniques aimed at moving learners progressively towards stronger understanding and ultimately greater independence in the learning process.

It involves breaking up the learning task, experience or concepts into smaller parts and then providing learners with the support they need to learn each part. The process may require a teacher assigning an excerpt of a longer text to learners to read and engaging them to discuss the excerpt to improve comprehension. The teacher goes ahead to guide them through the key words/ vocabulary to ensure learners have developed a thorough understanding of the text before engaging them to read the full text.

Common scaffolding strategies available to the teacher are:

1. give learners a simplified version of a lesson, assignment, or reading, and then gradually increases the complexity, difficulty, or sophistication over time;
2. describe or illustrate a concept, problem, or process in multiple ways to ensure understanding;
3. give learners an Exemplar(s): or model of an assignment they will be asked to complete;
4. give learners a vocabulary lesson before they read a difficult text;
5. describe the purpose of a learning activity clearly and the learning goals they are expected to achieve; and
6. describe explicitly how the new lesson builds on the knowledge and skills learners were taught in a previous lesson.

Information Communication Technology

Information Communication Technology (ICT) has been integrated into the computing curriculum as part of the core of education, alongside reading, writing and numeracy. Thus, the curriculum is designed to use ICT as a teaching and learning tool to enhance deep and independent learning. For instance, the teacher in certain instances is directed to use multimedia to support the teaching and learning process.

ICT has the potential to innovate, accelerate, enrich, and deepen skills. It also motivates and engages learners to relate school experiences to work practices. It provides opportunities for learners to fit into the world of work.

Some of the expected outcomes that this curriculum aims to achieve are:

1. improved teaching and learning processes;
2. improved consistency and quality of teaching and learning;

3. increased opportunities for more learner-centered pedagogical approaches;
4. improved inclusive education practices.;
5. improved collaboration, creativity, higher order thinking skills; and
6. enhanced flexibility and differentiated approach of delivery.

The use of ICT as a teaching and learning tool is to provide learners access to large quantities of information online and offline. It also provides the frame- work for analysing data to investigate patterns and relationships in the computing context. Once learners have made their findings, ICT can help them organise, edit and print the information in many different ways.

Learners need to be exposed to various ICT tools around them including calculators, radios, cameras, phones, television sets and computers and related software like Microsoft Office packages - Word, PowerPoint and Excel as teaching and learning tools. The exposure that learners are given from Basic 7 – 10 to use ICT in exploiting learning will build their confidence and increase their levels of motivation to apply ICT use in later years, both within and outside of education. ICT use for teaching and learning is expected to enhance the quality and competence level of learners.

CORE COMPETENCIES

In using this curriculum, we hope that certain core competencies will be developed in learners to help them develop our country, Ghana. These competencies include:

Critical Thinking and Problem Solving (CP)

This skill develops learners' cognitive and reasoning abilities to enable them analyse and solve problems. Critical thinking and problem-solving skill enable learners to draw on their own experiences to analyse situations and choose the most appropriate out of a number of possible solutions. It requires that learners embrace the problem at hand, persevere and take responsibility for their own learning.

Creativity and Innovation (CI)

Creativity and innovation promote the development of entrepreneurial skills in learners through their ability to think of new ways of solving problems and developing technologies for addressing the problem at hand. It requires ingenuity of ideas, arts, technology and enterprise. Learners having this skill are also able to think independently and creatively.

Communication and Collaboration (CC)

This competency promotes in learners the skills to make use of languages, symbols and texts to exchange information about themselves and their life experiences. Learners actively participate in sharing their ideas. They engage in dialogue with others by listening to and learning from them. They also respect and value the views of others.

Cultural Identity and Global Citizenship (CG)

This competency involves developing learners to put country and service foremost through an understanding of what it means to be active citizens. This is done by inculcating in learners a strong sense of social and economic awareness. Learners make use of the knowledge, skills, competencies and attitudes acquired to contribute effectively towards the socioeconomic development of the country and on the global stage. Learners build skills to critically identify and analyse cultural and global trends that enable them to contribute to the global community.

Personal Development and Leadership (PL)

This competency involves improving self-awareness and building self-esteem. It also entails identifying and developing talents, fulfilling dreams and aspirations. Learners are able to learn from mistakes and failures of the past. They acquire skills to develop other people to meet their needs. It involves recognising the importance of values such as honesty and empathy and seeking the well-being of others. Personal development and leadership enable learners to distinguish between right and wrong. The skill helps them to foster perseverance, resilience and self-confidence. It helps them acquire the skill of leadership, self-regulation and responsibility necessary for lifelong learning.

Digital Literacy (DL)

Digital Literacy involves guiding learners to discover, acquire, and communicate through ICT to support their learning. It also makes them use digital media responsibly.

NB: Refer to Appendix I for details of the core competencies.

INSTRUCTIONAL EXPECTATIONS

Teachers are often required to cater for a diverse range of learners. This Curriculum, therefore, may be regarded as a more compact resource to fulfill that requirement.

Here, two cohorts of learners are identified: the first cohort describes those with no experience of Arabic; while the second refers to those with some level of proficiency. Through sustained experience of learning, the first cohort develops an understanding of the nature of the language and how to learn it with increasing independence, while they benefit from members of the second cohort who have established many of the general learning strategies that are needed to ensure progress to the next level.

Teachers should, therefore, ensure that teaching strategies at this level takes account of any prior experience, including knowledge of other languages like English which is compulsory for all learners in the system of education in Ghana. The outcomes described for each level should be regarded as the basis for the development of knowledge, understanding and skills in Arabic for subsequent stages. The professional judgement of teachers is crucial in determining the learning opportunities that should be provided in order to enable learners achieve outcomes described in this document.

For this reason the teacher should:

1. guide and facilitate learning by generating discourse among learners and challenging them to accept and share responsibility for their own learning based on their unique individual differences;
2. select Arabic content, adapt and plan lessons to meet the interests, knowledge, understanding, abilities and experiences of learners;
3. work together as colleagues within and across disciplines and grade levels to develop communities of Arabic Language learners who exhibit the skills of Arabic language inquiry and the attitudes and social values conducive to learning Arabic;

4. use multiple methods and systematically gather data about learner understanding and ability to guide Arabic Language teaching and learning with arrangements to provide feedback to both learners and parents;
5. design and manage learning environments that provide learners with the time, space and resources needed for learning the Arabic Language.

Suggested Time Allocation

A total of three periods a week, each period consisting of 50 minutes, is allocated to the teaching of Arabic from B7 – B10. One period per day (50-minutes per period) is recommended.

ORGANISATION AND STRUCTURE OF THE CURRICULUM

The curriculum is organised under key headings and annotations.

Strands are the broad learning areas of the content to be studied.

Sub-strands are the sub-divisions of the broad learning areas or strands.

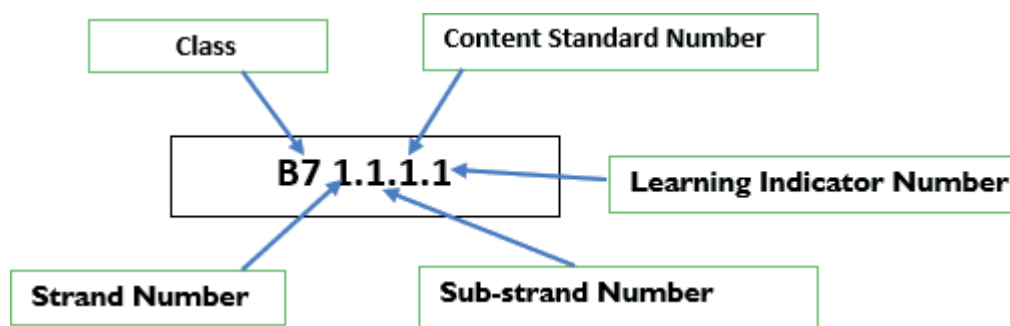

Content standards are the expected level of knowledge, skill and/or attitude that a learner must attain at each grade level.

Indicators are the distinct outcomes that learners must exhibit for each content standard at each level of learning.

Exemplars clearly explain the distinct outcomes or indicators. They support and guide the facilitator/teacher in helping learners to achieve the content standards.

Annotation
